Winter 2017: Relationships, learning and intellectual aim

The Crown Degree Service states that “from the mature individual must come the inspiration that shall light youth on its way.”

Every stage of life teaches us new lessons. The same can be said about relationships. Each relationship has the potential to help you learn something new or help teach someone else.

HOW TO PARTICIPATE IN THIS ALUMNAE MEMBERSHIP EDUCATION

SET ASIDE TIME TO REVIEW THE ARTICLES AND VIDEOS.

READ THE REFLECTION QUESTIONS BEFORE AND AFTER EACH ARTICLE OR VIDEO.

WRITE DOWN A FEW NOTES OR THOUGHTS.

You will be able to use these notes later in membership education discussions.

JOIN THE CONVERSATION BY:

Commenting on the blogs for each article or video.

Meeting with another member to discuss your thoughts - grab a coffee together.

TAKE PART IN THE INTELLECTUAL AIM CHALLENGE FOR THIS QUARTER.

See below for instructions.

As you review the articles and videos below, reflect on the following questions:

- What is one thing you have learned in this stage of your life?
- What is one thing you wish you had known earlier in life?
- How will you take what you have learned to help “light youth on its way” by mentoring or guiding someone else?
- How have your relationships changed over the past five years? Feel free to think specifically on one of the following groups: family, friends, children, coworkers, etc.
- What is one way you have invested in a relationship with someone this week?
